

Employment – Washington

Job: Accountant/Controller

Location: Pomeroy Grain Growers Inc.

Deadline for Applications: May 31st, 2007

Job Description: Pomeroy Grain Growers is looking for a Controller/Accountant. This job requires a degree in accounting with grain accounting experience preferred. Daily jobs include maintaining the daily position report, managing the general ledger and accounts receivable. Must be able to interface the grain accounting program into the financial program and provide reports to State and Federal Auditors during audits. The job requires proficient computer skills and must be able to work closely with our grain software package support team. Computer networking knowledge is a plus. Salary will be based on skills and experience. Pomeroy Grain Growers has an excellent benefits package and a 401-k plan. This job will be filled by June 15th, which will allow one month of training before wheat harvest begins in Garfield County.

Highlights: Pomeroy Grain Growers has annual sales of $35 million in grain and agronomy. Pomeroy is located in southeastern Washington, 30 miles west of Lewiston, Idaho. This cooperative has elevators in Pomeroy and a grain terminal at Central Ferry on the Snake River. The Agronomy Plant is located in Pomeroy, and the cooperative has a grain marketing office in Colfax, Washington. Garfield County is blessed with the Blue Mountains south of Pomeroy and the Snake River north of town, which makes for wonderful recreational opportunities. The school system has about 25 students per grade and is a 'B' school. The town's population is under 1500 people and Pomeroy has affordable housing and real estate. Pomeroy has many job opportunities in town with the Forest Service and the Garfield County Memorial Hospital being the largest employers, plus there are many job opportunities in the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley, thirty miles east.
