

DAVID DOERINGSFELD

David Doeringsfeld has served as the General Manager of the Port of Lewiston for twenty-seven years. As General Manager of Idaho's only seaport, he is involved in numerous transportation, economic development and natural resource related issues.

Before joining the Port, David worked for a civil engineering firm for ten years as a Project and Business Manager. During this time, he worked with ports and municipalities on infrastructure development projects.

David earned a Master's Degree in Public Administration from the University of Idaho and a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of South Dakota.

David and his wife Cindy enjoy camping and recreating throughout northern Idaho. They have two married daughters, and better yet, two grandchildren.
